

Question 820) - A man sold goods for immediate payment and then gave a set date for payment. What is the ruling?

A: It becomes a credit sale. Any amount payable for which the creditor grants terms becomes credit; except for loans because time is not factored in them.

~ al-Quduri ~