

Question 994) - A man confesses to debts on his deathbed. He had other debts incurred during his health. There were also debts incurred during his final illness with known causes. Which of the two will take preference?

A: The debts during his health and the debts with known causes take preference.

~ al-Quduri ~