

Question 1013) - Can land be rented for farming?

A: Yes, on condition that the contract states what will be planted or that the lessee may plant what he wishes. The contract will include the right of watering and right of using the paths even if the contract does not state this explicitly.

~ al-Quduri ~