

Question 1160) - The value of the slaves increased after he bought them and a profit emerged. Can he free them from his share and owe the capital-contributor the balance?

A: He will free his share in the slaves. He does not owe the partner anything. The freed slave will earn and repay the partner.

~ al-Quduri ~