

Question 1373) - What is the status of the slave's transactions when the owner has given him permission?

A: If the owner has given general permission then the slave may engage in any trade. He may buy, sell, give collateral and take collateral. If he has been given permission for one kind of trade he may do all trades.???

~ al-Quduri ~