

Question 1305) - A man slaughtered a sheep without the owner's permission. What can the owner do?

A: He can give him the carcass and demand the price of the sheep; or he can claim the value of the damage.

~ al-Quduri ~