

Question 1786) - Can freedom be attached to possession or other conditions?

A: Yes, thus if he says to someone else's slave, "If I own you, you will be free," then slave will be free if he comes to own him. If he says to his own slave, "If you enter the house you are free," and the slave enters the house then he is free.

~ al-Quduri ~