

Question 2259) - A partner claims that there has been a mistake, something of his is in the hands of another partner. However, he had previously testified that he had received his full share.

A: His claim will not be accepted unless he produces proof.

~ al-Quduri ~