

Question 1031) - A man hired an animal to ride and someone else mounted it. Is that allowed?

A: If the terms of riding were general he can let anyone ride it. If the rider was specified and the hirer let someone else ride then he is liable for any injury the animal may suffer. The same rule applies for any change in the usage.

~ al-Quduri ~