

Question 1056) - Does the contract remain in effect if one of the two parties die?

A: If he contracted it for himself, the hire is immediately terminated with his death. If he acted on behalf of someone else' such as an agent for his principle, a guardian for a child, a parent for his son' then it is not terminated.

~ al-Quduri ~