

Question 1204) - If the principle terminates the agency and the agent still transacts after that, what is the ruling?

A: If he knew that he has been removed then his transacting is not permissible. If he did not receive the notice of termination then he is still the agent and his transactions are valid and binding upon the principle, until he learns of the termination.

~ al-Quduri ~