

Will it be Permissible to Make Istinjaah with the Right Hand when One Cannot Use the Left

Q: Taharaat-21: A woman's left hand is broken and swathed in bandage. As a result, she is unable to pour water when making Istinjaah. Can she make Istinjaah with her right hand or should her husband or daughter make Istinjaah for her? Which method is best?

Answer: It is better for her to use her right hand for Istinjaah rather than having her husband or daughter do it for her. And Allaah knows best what is most correct.
